An Exciting Opportunity - We discovered in the summer of 2008 that we were able to video the performances and post them online at the website, OceanGroveInTheSummer.com. This allowed the children and youth in our cast, and their families, to watch the shows long after summer was over, and brought back many happy memories of summer days spent acting, singing and dancing. We would like to do the video project again this summer, but each year we are required to ask for everyone's permission again. That's why we're asking for a signature giving us photo and video permission. (Please note - names are not included in any online presentations.) You are invited to come and talk to us if you have any questions about this, or if you would like to see how the online videos are presented. Thank you.

I give my permission for photographs and videos taken of this summer's play rehearsals and performances to be presented online at OceanGroveInTheSummer.com.
